

GGIS Felicitated the Hidden Talent of Jabalpur

Gyan Ganga International School is always been a pioneer in reaching the hidden talent and growing them to their best. This year in the Trade Fair Gyan Ganga School organized a Drawing cum Talent Hunt Competition in collaboration with Dainik Bhaskar the famous daily newspaper. The foremost aim of this competition was to drag out the hidden talent, potentials and skills of students of various age groups.

The competition was organized during the trade fair at Gole Bazar. Students of various age groups and from different areas participated with full enthusiasm and zeal. They showcased their talents with different colours, sketches on various topics on plain drawing sheets which depicted their thoughts, ideas and feelings.

On 16th Jan 2016 the winners of this competition were awarded and honoured in the campus of Gyan Ganga at Pravaha the school auditorium. The programme was organized by the management of GGIS. The dignities who graced this felicitation programme were the Executive Director GGIS Shri Nitin Jain, School Principal Dr. Rajesh Kumar Chandel, Mr. Sandeep Nema & Mr. Puneet representatives from Dainik Bhaskar. The programme started with the welcoming of the distinguished guest, participants and their parents.

After the welcoming ceremony the winners of this drawing competition were awarded with the dignitaries and were appreciated by the audience for their outstanding performance. The winners were from all the age group i.e. from play group to senior secondary level.

Speaking on the occasion Executive Director Shri Nitin Jain appreciated the hard work of his staff members and the Principal in organizing this competition and searching the talents from masses. He also motivated the winners and the participants for their excellent performance and unmatched presentation. In the same sequence school principal express his heartfelt gratitude to all the participants, parents and above all the dignitaries who graced the occasion with their graceful presence.