

Culmination Function of CBSE's Master Trainers Training Program at Gyan Ganga International School

On 29th July 2016 Friday Gyan Ganga International School hosted the culmination function for the three day's long CBSE's Master's Trainers training program me with the last day sessions on training the mentors for CBSE.

The teams of great scholars, learned trainers of CBSE were the dignitaries who graced the occasion. This training program was inaugurated on July 27, 2016 in the auditorium 'Pravaha' with the lighting of traditional Jyot ceremony and praising Goddess Saraswati the power of knowledge and wisdom. Hon'ble Chairperson of Gyan Ganga Group of Institution D.C. Jain, Director Dr. Nitin Jain, Venue Director & School Principal Dr. Rajesh Kumar Chandel, Deputy Director CBSE Ms. Arunima Mazumdar, Resource Persons Ms. Mrinmayee and Ms. Madhulika Bhupatkar were present for this grant opening ceremony. These dignitaries fortified the inauguration function as they were also the resources persons for the same.

On the third and last day of this training program me the resource person highlighted and threw light on the importance of gender sensitization its meaning, concept and how the teacher should become a gender sensitive teacher. In the second phase of the sessions the importance, procedure and methods of keeping records and doing documentation were discussed. As CCE is that process in which keeping records and maintaining documents is as important as nutritious food for keeping one's body healthy. The resource person explained the importance and vitality of this topic and also emphasized on how to maintain records and do documentation. CCE also emphasis on the round the session assessing and evaluating a child on various spheres so it is a prime duty of the assessor and evaluator to maintain the records and do documentation properly.

The third and last phase of the session was all about the perspective building on life skills, assessing and most important inculcating these life skills in a child with day to day learning's of subject matter. Every school emphasize and highlights the importance of maintaining good results and marking achievements of their students by gaining good percentage, but if the child is not possessing good life skills, values and ethics then the education is not worth. Keeping this thought the session was totally dedicated to life skills, its importance, assessing and above all how to inculcate in child these life skills. En numbers of activities based on life skill values were performed by the delegates and were assessed by resource person. Explanation of various tools and techniques that can be used in its assessment, descriptors for assessing life skill in child and familiarization of the same were done through handouts and the material that emphasized on the same. There were number of individual and group activities which were conducted to make each one of the participants understand the concept more clearly and minutely.

At the end of the third day training program me there was session marked as the session in which all the delegates from various CBSE schools were asked to showcase their lesson plans which was given to them as a task. All the delegates performed in the group and presented their lesson plans through activities, PPT's and even stage presentations. This session was very eye-catching one as new ideas, thoughts; creative ways came up through these delegates. The three day's long CBSE's Masters Trainer training program was summed up in very positive and fruitful manner. Feedbacks were taken from each one who attended the program me and were assured by the resource person to get their difficulties solved if they have any in future also.

The culmination function of this program me was graced by the Executive Director Dr. Nitin Jain, Venue Director & School Principal Dr. Rajesh Kumar Chandel, Deputy Director CBSE Ms. Arunima Mazumdar, resource persons and all the 85 delegates from 10 different states of India.
