

Christmas Celebration with the Students of Government School

On 22 Dec 2016 the last phase of the students from classes Nursery to III standard went to the Govt Schools of the nearby villages named Kungwan & Pindrai under the social Interaction Educational Programme.

These Govt. schools are adopted by the Gyan Ganga International School's management under the programme HOPE, that is running for socially deprived students in which the children from such Govt. schools are provided with free coaching classes. The students of GGIS visited these schools to see how the student of Govt. schools receives education with limited resources and in the poorly build environment.

The main aim of this programme was to enlighten this group of students with the sense of respect and develop in them the quality of taking care and managing things properly that they have. They were also told about the importance of education with all basic amenities that a child needs to develop his personality.

The group of more than 200 students went with their teachers and was also accompanied by the school Principal and the member of managing committee Madam Nitika Jain. The children celebrated Christmas with the students of Govt. school by dancing, singing, performing skits depicting the life of Jesus Christ. They also played various games and distributed eatable, usable items, and clothes to these children as gifts.

The students of Gyan Ganga were emotionally moved and felt blessed by comparing the facilities the management prevails and provides them to explore. The students Gyan Ganga shared their views and thoughts through speeches and also spend time by playing and enjoying with them.

On their way back to the school they express their gratitude to the school Principal Dr. Rajesh Kumar Chandel, their teachers, parents and above all to the school management who are providing them the basic facilities and the environment that is helping them to develop and become a responsible citizen of country.
